

Many Thanks

On November 8th, the official launch of our CFAM Prime 3D Printer took place. After one year of development, construction and trials, we were looking forward to this moment.

The day would not have been the same without the presence of so many people. As there were many people present, there might be a chance that not all your questions were answered during that day. We would love to discuss the technology with those who still have feedback and questions to be answered.

Also for the people who could not make it to the event, we are available to discuss any challenge there might be in your company regarding large scale 3d printing with continuous fibre.

The entire CEAD team would like to thank everyone showing interest in our CFAM technology.
